It was a power packed week for chapters that traveled nation-wide to enjoy the National Education Conference (NEC), June 5-7, 2018, in Norfolk, VA.

The list of activities ranged from the Joint Leadership Session for incoming Chapter Presidents, 1st VPs and 2nd VPs to seminars such as Charting the Leadership Course, Conflict to Conversation, Think- Execute- Win, Life after Government Meetings, Powerful Powerpoint, Are You Safe? No- You're Not- Cyber Security, Liar, Liar, Pants on Fire and more...

Key chapter leadership had an opportunity to break bread (invitation only) with National President Michelle Milligan and exchange ideas with one another regarding best practices and chapter challenges....

To keep our minds and bodies fit, we participated a daily 2K Walk and 5K Run and in the evening we enjoyed a welcome reception hosted Visit Norfolk at the outdoor Waterside District, which featured Indoor and out door live bands on the Blue Moon Stage, amazing cuisine while we networked with chapters in attendance in a relaxed atmosphere.

In my opinion, this was the best NEC that I have ever attended. The sessions were phenomenal, the speakers were amazing, the participants were engaging and the conference planning was top-notch. Hats off to the national planning committee.

In the form of an alert, National advised us to be aware of FAKE CHAPTER EMAILS believed to be between chapter Treasurers and Presidents asking the treasurer to pay invoices. Fortunately, for our chapter Treasurer and President, they are great communicators and were able to combat these emails requesting payouts. Lastly, NEC 2019 will be in Detroit, MI, June 25-27, 2019.
